

How to use your Remote Control Video Game System

Note: When using the Atari 400, Atari 800 or Commodore VIC-20 home computers, GAME MATE II® will require an Atari AC power supply Model No. C010472.

Atari, Sears and Commodore are registered trademarks of Atari Inc., Sears Roebuck and Co., and Commodore International Ltd.

Easy to follow installation instructions

1. Unplug AC adapter that was supplied with your Atari Video Computer System (VCS) from the wall outlet and your VCS.
2. Unplug your regular joysticks, and replace with the right and left cords coming out of the GAME MATE II® Receiver Unit. (Make sure right goes to right, and left goes to left.)
3. Plug GAME MATE II® power cord into the back of your VCS.
4. Plug AC adapter into the GAME MATE II® Receiver Unit, and plug into wall outlet.
5. Put two 9 volt batteries into the bottom of the joysticks.
6. Turn on joysticks, using the switch on the back.
7. Begin play as normal.

We thought you should know

- A. When playing one-player games on some cartridges, it will be necessary to have both remote control joysticks turned on.
- B. When the game begins to act abnormal, the batteries in one or both joysticks should be replaced.
- C. Do not place the GAME MATE II® Receiver Unit behind the T.V. set. We suggest you place it next to or on top of your VCS.
- D. Be sure to turn your joysticks OFF when not in use.
